Personal long term projects:

Since 2007 I am focussing increasingly on long- term personal projects operating in a cross-over area between documentary and autonomous photography. I express myself in series which base their subject matter on topics close to myself, but which have a wider meaning by addressing a more universal tendency in which I motivate the viewer to search for a personal relation and interpretation. In doing so I am aiming for a subtle form of universal social criticism. The recent series "Unsettled" was awarded, published and exhibited (Inter)nationally since 2008 and received a project grant from the Dutch 'Anna Cornelis' foundation. I am preparing a book publication, scheduled for 2012.
